

Online Blended Program for Integrated English Language Skills

Ms. Erina Hunt, University of Otago, New Zealand

ABSTRACT

In 2019 and early 2020, a bespoke Online Blended English Language Program (OBELP) was delivered successfully to groups of teachers and students in Thailand and Malaysia. This established the Otago University Language Centre as a forerunner in online delivery prior to Covid-19. The OBELP brings together the best of contemporary teaching and learning pedagogy, and practice. It uses a highly motivating interactive self-study platform combined with live face-to-face interpersonal exchange in real time. This presentation shows how to practically blend integrated English language skills through communication, activities, collaboration, assessment and management following the constructive alignment model.