

Sheryl Cooke leads a regional team that provides language assessment solutions for partners throughout East Asia including needs analysis, test development, post-test services and teacher support. Sheryl has 20 years' experience in language assessment, including examiner training and item writing. Her qualifications include an MA Language Testing (Lancaster University), an MA Linguistics (SOAS), and the DELTA.

She is currently a PhD candidate at the University of Jyväskylä (Finland), focusing on the assessment of pronunciation and the potential implications for English as a Lingua Franca. Research interests include comprehensibility as a construct, the use of new technologies in language testing and the ethics of language assessment in the global context.

Trevor Breakspear has 18 years of teaching and training experience within the Chinese ESL and EAP contexts and over 10 years of project management experience within localisation and assessment fields. In addition to working with Ministry of Education partners in linking tests to the new Chinese Standards of English proficiency framework (CSE), Trevor works in an innovations role within the British Council's East Asia Assessment Solutions Team, currently responsible for the academic development of IELTS Smart Learning, a new AI-driven assessment solution as well as for coordinating and presenting academic and stakeholder research into new test concepts leveraging both AI and human raters. He is currently completing an MA in Language Testing at Lancaster University.