Email: howard.youngs@aut.ac.nz

Dr Howard Youngs is a Senior Lecturer and postgraduate research supervisor in educational leadership. His teaching, workshops, writing, and research, focus on rethinking leadership so deep transformation occurs in and through people so organizations develop. This is especially in the areas of teaching, learning, distributed leadership, resilience, and practices that build collaborative harmony. As a leader in international leadership and teacher development projects, he has had the privilege of spending time in Southeast Asian nations, as well as presenting in SEAMEO events. In his leadership workshops he is currently working alongside participants to help them regrow resilience in their organizations because of the impact the pandemic has had on education and well-being.
