SEAMEO INNOTECH

Email: mitch@seameo-innotech.org

Michelle is a learning designer and facilitator of INNOTECH's Learning Development and Management Office. She is passionate about co-creating learning experiences that use principles that put learners in the center. She is the Course Manager for the pilot offering of the Southeast Asian School Leadership Program (SEA-SLP), a SEDF program, which was designed, developed and delivered in the middle of the COVID-19 pandemic. She has facilitated several regional and international conferences, the most recent one was INNOTECH's Regional Forum on Reinventing Schools held in January 2022.

Michelle has more than 20 years of experience in development work. Her areas of interest and expertise include learning design and facilitation, organization and human resources development, competency development and management, and project management. She holds a bachelor's degree in communication and a master's degree in instructional design and technology. In her free time, she plays and paints with her kids, binges on movies and books, and tends to her houseplants.
