Email: eddyfazlin.amdan@moe.gov.bn

As the acting head of the Special Education Unit, Eddy Fazlin is instrumental in promoting initiatives aimed at ensuring the quality of education is provided for all students particularly for those identified as having special needs. In doing so, he is currently initiating several projects to increase our pool of teachers and officers in the field of special education; set up some Centre of Excellence throughout the 4 districts within the sultanate, and establish a curriculum framework that is responsive to the wide range of learning needs of students at all levels of education. He is also actively involved in promoting and enhancing 21st-century skills and digital competencies among school leaders, school teachers, students as well as other stakeholders. He is also an educator, associate facilitator, graphic designer, and former business analyst lead for Integrated National Education Information System (iNEIS). He studied Science Education (Mathematics/Chemistry) and Master of Education (Educational Technology) at Universiti Brunei Darussalam (UBD).
